

Two of Three Concurrent Special Assembly Sessions Are Ready to Quit Work

3 TAX RATE SCHEDULES SUBMITTED

Committee Receives Suggestions From Roosevelt

By Douglas B. Cornell
Washington, March 5.—(P)—Three rate schedules—all averaging 33 1/3 per cent—were submitted late today to a house committee studying President Roosevelt's suggestion for taxing undistributed corporate income.

Earlier, treasury and agriculture department experts had outlined as possible alternatives to the presidential plan income tax revisions and excises on manufacturers and agricultural commodities, to add $1,197,000,000 to the government's income.

Authoritative sources also said the subcommittee, which is seeking information on all possible sources of income before making a choice, is likely to give consideration to:

1. Raising the present federal beer tax of $5 a barrel to $7.50.
2. Exempting the first $2,000 of a corporation's income from all taxation "to help the little fellow."

Treasury rate suggestions for the proposed annual levy upon corporate income which is not distributed to stockholders in dividends were as follows:

- 25 per cent on such earnings up to $2,000, 28 per cent on those from $2,000 to $10,000, 32 per cent on $10,000 to $50,000 and 35 per cent on all above.

As alternative rates for the same brackets the experts suggested either 20, 26, 32 and 37 1/2 per cent respectively, or 25, 29, 33 and 37 per cent.

Congressional spokesmen, who disclosed that revision of the beer tax was receiving attention, asserted that the existing $5 tax was agreed upon in hopes it would permit retail sales at a nickel a glass. It was contended that boosting the tax by $2.50 a barrel still would not prevent sales at the current widespread charge of a dime.

Income-tax revision, which was explained to the subcommittee at the first of two meetings today, was figured to bring up to $448,000,000 manufacturers' excises up to $530,000,000, and excises on agricultural commodities (similar to the invalidated processing taxes), about $221,000,000.

FARM PROGRAM IS PRESENTED TO FARMERS

New Plan Is Given Approval By Leaders

ADD FARM PROGRAM?
Chicago, March 5.—(P)—A flow of suggestions for adapting the new $470,000,000 soil conservation-subsidy program to the varying needs of a dozen midwestern states followed today its presentation to regional conference of farm leaders.

With one exception, general agreement with the broad details of the administration's new plan to aid agriculture was evidenced by the Corn Belt audience which heard its general provisions. They were pointed toward a major crop planting of 270,000,000 acres and were outlined the first time in a statement from secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace.

"This plan is tending production to a low level," asserted C. E. Ewing of Decatur, Ill., president of the National Livestock Marketing Association in a critical response when comment from the floor of the conference was invited.

"If it costs about $500,000,000 a year to do that, you are taxing each acre of American farmland $1.50. Get foreign markets for livestock and you'll have all the markets you need for your crops."

Turning to the audience, which promoters of the conference numbered at 200, Ewing called: "I'd like to know how many real farmers are here, not connected with the AAA or the agricultural colleges?"

Observers said hands were raised in all sections of the audience.

L. J. Taber, master of the national grange, one of the important farm organizations represented, speaking for the program asserted:

"You can make this act so serviceable to the people of America that it can become an ark of the covenant for a better day."

GOP Leaders Say Campaign Against F. D. R. Will Win

"Grassrooters" Believe Sentiment Shifting In Middlewest

Chicago, March 5.—(P)—Republican leaders of "Grassroots" land predicted today they would carry the Midwestern Farm Belt in November if the party made its campaign a direct attack on President Roosevelt.

A "decided shift" in sentiment away from the New Deal was claimed by Republican chairmen and committeemen from fifteen states, but they said the president retained his personal popularity in the minds of many who "think the Roosevelt heart is in the right place but that he is being misled by his advisors."

To offset this sentiment, the leaders agreed the campaign should be directed "not at the New Deal, not at the brain trust, but at the president himself."

"The president appointed the brain trusters and he can remove them at will," declared G. W. Dalton, of Popular Bluff, Mo., at a conference called to perfect the party machinery in the Midwest.

Aside from the presidential popularity, the conferees said their biggest campaign obstacle was "intimidation" of voters on relief by Democratic office holders.

Thomas J. Houston, chairman of the executive committee of the Illinois central committee, asserted this "bludgeoning" was brought out in the Illinois Democratic campaign so forcefully it was not necessary for the Republicans to stress the point.

Despite all obstacles, Houston reported "the greatest interest in history" in Illinois Republicanism. Confidence that the party would carry the state in November was indicated, he said, in the large number of primary candidates.

FILE PROTEST AGAINST MAJ. GENERAL HAGOOD

Washington, March 5.—(P)—A formal protest to the war department against Major General Johnson Hagood's "slighting remarks about the work relief program" was made public today by Harry L. Hopkins.

The letter, sent on February 11, immediately after Hagood's "stage movie testimony" before a house subcommittee was made public, demanded that the general make "a public retraction."

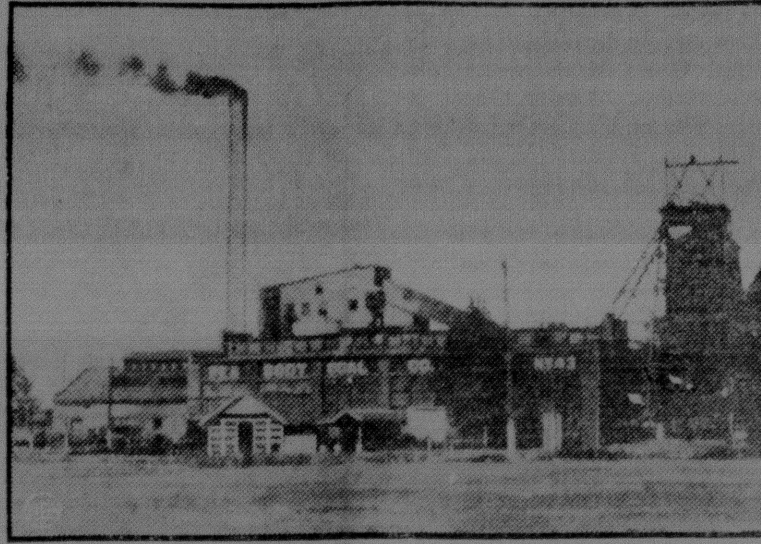

Shortly afterward, Hagood was removed from his command by General Main Craig, chief of staff.

It was sent to Secretary Dorn by Aubrey Williams, acting works progress administrator, in the absence of Hopkins, who was vacationing in Florida.

EDITOR DIES

Macomb, Ill., March 5.—(P)—S. H. Trego, editor of the Blandinsville Star Gazette, died today in a hospital at the age of 82. He was widely known in Republican politics. Formerly a school teacher, Trego purchased a weekly newspaper in 1908 and published it with aggressive editorial policies. Funeral services will be held in Blandinsville tomorrow.

National Guard At Puerto Rico Has Been Called Out

Alleged Nationalist Plot To Overthrow Insular Government Found

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Mar. 5.—National guard units, mobilized in barracks after discovery of an alleged nationalist plot to overthrow the insular government, awaited further orders tonight as seven nationalists were released under $10,000 bond each.

Police continued their investigation which led to the arrest of Pedro Albizu Campos, asserted leader of the conspiracy, and six of his followers.

The official investigation disclosed a loaded rifle and a bomb, together with 50 wooden drilling guns and recruiting cards headed "army of liberation, general headquarters."

The nationalists were charged with conspiracy to overthrow the insular United States government, inciting insurrection and recruiting soldiers.

Albizu is known as the leader of the movement which seeks to establish governmental independence for Puerto Rico. He is a graduate of Harvard.

He surrendered as soon as he learned United States Marshal Draughon held a warrant for his arrest. With the other prisoners, he was taken before United States Commissioner Ramon Julia, entered pleas of innocence for all seven and completed arrangements for release on bond.

In Washington, Secretary of the Interior Ickes whose department administers the affairs of Puerto Rico, said Albizu is "a very dangerous person" and the government would prosecute him for treason.

Mrs. Laura Shore Dies In Los Angeles

Death Of Former Jacksonville Resident Occurs After Long Illness

Mrs. Laura Shore, formerly a resident of Jacksonville, passed away in Los Angeles on Sunday morning, March 1st, after months and years of serious illness, during which time she was tenderly and lovingly cared for by her daughter, Miss Elsie Shore, and her sister, Miss Lucella Hart, who survive her. Her husband and one son, Herman, preceded her in death some years ago. Others who remain are another daughter, Mrs. Le Kendrick of Winfield, Kansas, a sister, Mrs. Mary Batley, of Denver, Colorado, and a brother, Joseph Hart, of Springfield, Illinois.

Soon after Mrs. Shore came to Los Angeles to make her home, she united with the Magnolia Avenue Christian church where she enjoyed the services as long as she was able to attend. Since the merger of the Magnolia church and the First Christian church she has not been able physically to attend any of the services but continued interested. Altho of a retiring nature she had many friends both in Illinois and in Los Angeles.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday, March 3rd, by her pastor, Dr. Warren Grafton, minister of the First church and a former pastor of Magnolia, Dr. Charles R. Drake.

UNION MINERS AT HARRISBURG ISSUE WARNING

Progressives Will Not Permit Operators To Import Men

By Lester M. Hill
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Harrisburg, Ill., March 5.—(P)—Leaders of the Progressive Miners' Union tonight appealed to retail merchants here to "stop another slaughter in Saline county" by urging county officials to stop the hiring of "imported" labor at Peabody Mine No. 43.

Lloyd Thrush, state vice-president of the organization, warned there would be a repetition of the Oct. 5, 1933, riot here in which twenty men were injured if company officials continued to operate the mine with men from the rival United Mine Workers union.

"Our men will work the mine or the mine will not be worked," Thrush told the merchants, many of whom closed their shops today in the general labor holiday called by 3,000 Progressive miners.

"We deplore the situation but the men are entitled to the jobs."

The Progressives' leader said he would go "everything possible" to stop formation of picket lines at the mine if the merchants would go to county officials with a request to bar the "outside" miners.

"We won't be bluffing by the hard Coosacks," he declared, referring to concentration here of twenty patrol cars of state highway police. Although Peabody officials said no extra guards would be hired and none were visible at the mine, Thrush asserted he had been advised the "woods adjoining the mine are full of machine guns."

No violence has been reported since the opening of the mine Monday. The streets were quiet and all but deserted tonight, most residents keeping to their homes. All taverns were ordered closed by Mayor Ray Durham.

A decision to picket the mine tomorrow reached at a mass meeting this afternoon before the session between the merchants and the union leaders, brought an assertion from State's Attorney John Kane that "we are prepared for any emergency."

Koki Hirota Has Filled Half Of Cabinet Posts

New Ministry Will Succeed One Shattered By Bullets Last Week

By Glenn Babb.
Associated Press Foreign Staff.
Tokyo, March 5.—(P)—Koki Hirota, veteran foreign minister, made marked progress tonight toward forming a new cabinet to succeed the one shattered last week by bullets of army revolutionaries.

Several hours after he had been summoned to the Imperial Palace by Emperor Hirohito and entrusted with the formidable task, Hirota announced at 10 p. m. he had filled more than half the posts, assured of support from many quarters.

His selections were:
Premier—Koki Hirota.
Foreign affairs—Shigeru Yoshida.
Navy—Osami Nagano.
War—Count Juichi Terauchi.
Finance—Eiichi Baba, president of the Hypothec bank.
Home—Takukichi Kawasaki.
Justice—Naoshi Ohara.

Kuratsue Yuasa was appointed to succeed Viscount Admiral Makoto Saito, assassinated last Wednesday, as lord keeper of the privy seal, and Tameo Matsudaira was named minister of the imperial household to succeed Yuasa.

Hirota, a surprise selection, has been popular with a majority of the army and navy blocs, although occasionally he has opposed expansionist plans. He was more acceptable to Rightists, too, because of a strong statement of foreign policy to the Diet Jan. 21.

In this speech Hirota scored Soviet rearmament, called upon China to begin "active and effective collaboration with Japan" and to recognize Manchoukuo; and promised that the "friendly policy" of Japan toward the United States and Great Britain would not be altered by developments at the London naval conference.

MRSK ELSIE WHATELEY DIES IN ENGLAND

Birmingham, England, March 5.—(P)—Mrs. George Albert Ward said today her sister, Mrs. Elsie Whateley widow of the former butler of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, died recently.

Mrs. Whateley came to England shortly after the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnap-murder of the infant son of Colonel Lindbergh and stayed at her sister's home in the quiet Harborne district.

Mrs. Whateley testified at the Hauptmann trial that her husband, Ollie, was not acquainted with Dr. John F. (Jasie) Condon who paid $50,000 ransom in an effort to recover the flier's son.

Warren North of Winchester was included in the number of Thursday visitors in the city.

State Certifying Board Disqualifies Two Horner Candidates For Committee

NEW YORK CITY IS GRIPPED BY LABOR CRISIS

Strike Of Building Service Workers Is Extended

By Curtis R. Hay.
Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(P)—Two "Horner candidates" for the Democratic state central committee in the April 14 elections were disqualified for the race today by the state certifying boards.

They are Walter Nesbit of Belleville, who sought to run against State Chairman Bruce A. Campbell, and Joe J. Rutledge of Le Roy. Both were declared ineligible because their petitions were held to be in improper form.

The vote on each man was two to one. Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes and Auditor Edward J. Barrett, members of the Kelly-Nash primary ticket, voting against Alexander Wilson, executive assistant, who represented Governor Horner at the meeting.

No objection was raised to the candidacy of H. Wallace Caldwell of Chicago, seeking the Republican nomination for governor, and he was certified hereafter as this was the only meeting of the board.

Caldwell's petition did not carry a notary's seal when filed, but he submitted an affidavit from a notary later and the petition was accepted today without argument.

Rutledge's removal from the 17th district race for committeeman left another Horner candidate in the field there, C. Everett Smith of Lincoln, the incumbent. Roy W. Hinchshaw of Bloomington is also a candidate in the district fight.

Nesbit said he intended to file a mandamus action against the board, but would have to determine first whether it should be filed here or in Belleville. He was at the capitol today to make a personal appeal to the board.

Both Rutledge and Nesbit used petitions which originally read "For nomination for Congress as a Democrat" and "for nomination for Congress as a Democrat" and "for nomination for Congress as a Democrat."

The board held that the law specifically provided that the petition for committeeman must read "for election," and disqualified the two men.

Nesbit argued with the board that in several other states rulings had been made that the word nomination was equivalent to election.

Four other candidates for the primaries were disqualified because the board said their petitions lacked sufficient valid signatures. They were: Robert G. Kooser, Galesburg, Republican candidate for Congress in the 15th district; Joe J. Nawrocki and Fred Dymitrowicz, Chicago Democrats for the House, 9th district; and Nelson Nuttall, Lawrenceville, Democrat for the House, 48th district.

Nuttall's disqualification left F. W. Lewis, Robinson, Governor Horner's spokesman in the House, unopposed for the nomination in the primary.

State's February Income $14,353,141

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(P)—Treasurer John Stelle's office today announced that the state's income during February was $14,353,141, compared with disbursements of $11,414,030.

The revenue compared with $13,373,064 in January, $12,348,658 in February 1935, and $10,837,929 exclusive of relief bond sales in February, 1934.

Sources of last month's income were given in the monthly report as: direct property tax, $360,825; inheritance tax, $463,549; beverage and liquor tax, $681,844; insurance taxes and fees, $37,025; corporation fees and taxes, $105,400; interest on state funds, $14,006; (sales) tax, $3,212,653; sales tax, paid under protest, $585,850; sales tax, for relief, $1,946,700; motor fuel tax, $2,225,219; motor vehicle tax, $2,592,769; federal aid to roads, $863,844; trust funds, $481,708; miscellaneous fees, earnings and refunds, $781,742.

OFFICERS ON TRAIL OF STOLEN MONEY

Joliet, Ill., March 5.—(P)—On the trail of $16,000 stolen from the St. Charles (Ill.) National bank Jan. 31, federal agents tonight said they would question George Kobart, 21, nephew of one of the seven men indicted for the robbery.

Police Chief Nicholas Fornango said when he arrested Kobart today his pockets were loaded with $35 in 50 cent pieces and $70 in currency.

Fornango said the youth told him he visited his uncle James Kobart in the Cook county jail at Chicago Tuesday and that he was asked to take $70 in 50 cent pieces from a trunk in Kobart's home in Domo, near here, change them into currency and bring it to him.

James Kobart is a former Will county deputy sheriff.

FATHER, SON ACQUITTED

East St. Louis, Ill., March 5.—(P)—A city court jury late today acquitted Sylvan Thorpe and his father, Jesse Thorpe, of a charge of murder in the death of Ralph Colmer.

Colmer was fatally injured last September in a pool room operated by the elder Thorpe.

Strike Of Building Service Workers Is Extended

NEW YORK CITY IS GRIPPED BY LABOR CRISIS

Strike Of Building Service Workers Is Extended

New York, March 5.—(P)—A labor crisis of major proportions gripped this city of skyscrapers tonight as striking building service workers extended their walkout to two new sectors and moved to take in virtually the entire metropolitan area.

Appeals for National Guard and extra police protection went out from harassed cloud dwellers as union leaders ordered a paralyzing tieup of elevator and heating service in 4,800 buildings in the Washington Heights and Harlem area.

"The union is hurling its full strength into the battle," declared James J. Bambrick, leader of the walkout that already has affected 1,536 buildings in other sections of Manhattan and the Bronx.

"The union accepts the challenge to carry this battle on. We feel we have right on our side."

He indicated he would move tomorrow against the great Manhattan area known as the Grand Central Zone, where tower the world's tallest buildings.

Brooklyn and Queens also have been slated for strike calls tomorrow, he said, carrying the battle to four of the five boroughs.

Tonight's orders called for a walkout of 6,000 workers in Harlem and 4,800 in the uptown business-residential area of Washington Heights.

Negotiations for a settlement with the realty advisory board, representing most of the building owners affected, collapsed after a 14-hour conference at City Hall.

The real estate men, calling the strike a "wanton assault on the public" refused to arbitrate as long as the union demanded the right to organize.

The police operating bureau said 200 buildings had been hit by the latest strike call, bringing the total of strike-stricken buildings to 1,725.

Chris Kneib, president of the Hotel Workers Union, said he would order elevator operators, chambermaids, porters and doormen from 15 of the biggest hotels tomorrow.

Germany And Italy May Denounce The "Locarno Treaty"

International Developments During Week Will Decide If Break Certain

By Louis P. Lochner.

By The Associated Press.
Berlin, March 5.—(P)—Germany and Italy, drawing together in the current European crisis, may jointly denounce the Locarno treaty guaranteeing peace in western Europe, a high government official said today.

International developments during the next week, this official added, will determine whether Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini will break away from the pact, contending it has been violated by France and Great Britain.

(The Locarno treaty was signed in 1925 by Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium and provides for mutual assistance against aggression.)

This official disclosed for the first time this was a principal subject of secret negotiations between Germany and Italy.

Italy and Germany, this source asserted, disagreed on many things but both believe France and Great Britain have violated the spirit if not the letter of the Locarno pact.

Germany contends the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact is a violation, while Italy defends the mutual Mediterranean defense agreement against Italy reached by Britain, France and several other powers.

The Italian contention is that conferences between the French and British general staffs violate the pact.

Great Cooperation

The Morgan county Skilled Drivers club has received the "publicity trophy" for the state, due to the fact that the Journal and Courier has given the organization a large amount of favorable mention. This body of young people, banded together for improvement of skill in driving cars and for study and practice of safety measures, has made great progress since its organization a few months ago. The local press has been pleased to trace that progress through timely accounts of meetings, demonstrations and other activities of the club. The newspapers have as their great object the publication of the news of the community and appreciate the co-operation of those who recognize news of public interest.

The young people in the Skilled Drivers' club have been faithful in giving the news of their activities to the press. After every meeting they bring in a news story, which newspaper men are always glad to get and publish. It is this sort of co-operation on the part of this splendid group of young people that has won for them the state publicity award of their organization.

The club is co-operating also in the Journal and Courier safety campaign, everyone of its fifty members being most enthusiastic. In fact, all have placed their names on the safety honor roll. The club membership has a remarkable record. Not one of the drivers in the organization has been involved in a motor traffic accident since the club was formed.

The movement is gaining among young people. There are fifty members in the club now, and a new class of twenty is to be started on the club course of instruction in about two weeks. The club is one of the best movement for traffic and highway safety in the county.

A River Tragedy

Two men were missing and five others were scalded Wednesday afternoon when the boilers on a Mississippi river tow-boat exploded near Chester, Ill. So great was the force of the explosion that the top of the boat was torn away and a barrel of blazing oil was blown from the boat to the Missouri shore 200 feet distant.

There has been much agitation recently for a better-equipped and better-manned U. S. Steamboat Inspection Service. Reports released from the Department of Commerce showing inadequate safeguards for life on boats at sea and in the rivers and harbors of the country have stirred up much talk. In fact two officials of the service were dismissed, charged with "insubordination" in connection with the releasing of the disturbing reports.

The Steamboat Inspection service has few boats, and these are old and inefficient. It is impossible to make adequate inspections of the thousands of boats and ships in American waters. What caused the tow-boat explosion is not known, but its occurrence emphasizes the need for more adequate government supervision of American shipping.

"No More Reprieves"

Governor Hoffman of New Jersey declared Thursday that there would be no more reprieves for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted kidnaper-slayer of the Lindbergh baby. He pointed out that unless he and Attorney General Wilentz can reach an agreement on the basis of new evidence, they will not ask Justice Trenchard for a further stay of execution.

There has been no new evidence introduced in the case. The brilliant prosecution conducted by Wilentz remains intact, save for an effort made to break down testimony of two witnesses who said they saw Hauptmann in the vicinity of the Hopewell home of the Lindberghs. It is doubtful whether perjury charges made against these witnesses will be prosecuted.

As matters stand now, Hauptmann must die during the week of March 30. Hoffman has admitted it would be illegal for him to grant another reprieve. It is doubtful if he wants to interest himself further in the case, judging from reports that have come in recent days. It is now rumored that political influence has been prominent in the case, and that a recent action of the New Jersey legislature is failing to pass a bill to keep Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf as head of the state police, has accomplished that for which certain political forces were striving.

If this is true, it is most unfortunate that New Jersey politicians have made use of this noted case to get what they wanted. Justice is never served by such actions. Hauptmann has been found guilty, and postponing his execution in an effort to discredit political foes is a poor example of law-enforcement for the nation.

Long Live the King!

It comes as a shock to the tailors, but King Edward's renunciation of conventional court clothes doubtless will be hailed by men around the world. The new ruler, dashing aside all conventionality as he did when he was Prince of Wales, has decreed that the black knee-length frock coat is passe in his regime. Instead, the men of the court will wear ordinary cut-aways or morning clothes.

What is really significant about all this is that the king leads the way for freedom in male attire. The conventionalities of formal dress may now be divorced from the Middle Ages.

Moreover, Edward's modern outlook presages a swing toward other liberalisms. Britain and the world can truly appreciate such a monarch.

Limit To 'Free Speech'

In these days of growing political tempest, the question of radio's rights and responsibilities looms constantly larger. But so far no one has so aptly analyzed the situation as has Owen D. Young in the capacity of chairman of the advisory council of the National Broadcasting Company.

So vital is the question, declares Mr. Young, that freedom of speech has come to depend solely upon the wisdom and restraint of speakers on the networks.

"Freedom of speech for the man whose voice can be heard a hundred feet is one thing, and freedom of speech for the man whose voice may be heard around the world is another," Young declares. And so to this end, he pleads for temperate radio addresses.

There would seem to be a good deal of justification for Mr. Young's utterances. The only out for Mr. Voter has been the customary reliance on his newspaper for the facts.

Radio can make itself extremely useful as a dispenser of information, but if it is to retain public respect, it must consistently draw a line between liberty and license.

Barbs

"Many Wall Street brokers take noon plunges." Apparently, it still isn't safe to pass a Manhattan skyscraper.

Germans recently celebrated the 216th birthday of Baron Munchausen who, Dora recalls, was the one who was always trying to place Sharley.

Dr. Cook insists he discovered the North Pole, but it's difficult now to check up on the footprints, the region being pretty well trampled down.

After a Baltimore girl met a young Scotsman in Switzerland, Italy, and India, they were wed, and will probably settle down, if she hides his steamship pass.

A Holtsville, Ind., woman, 109, has passed away without ever having heard a radio. Other people look to the next world for their reward.

Special Assessment Taxes Must Be Paid Now, Attorney Says

City Attorney Cleary in a Statement Sets Forth City's Position

City Attorney Edward Cleary said yesterday the time has arrived for the collection of delinquent installments on special assessments, and that the City will proceed to bring foreclosure proceedings against properties on which the assessments are unpaid. A large number of properties at present are in the delinquent class.

In special assessment proceedings bonds are issued which are payable out of the assessments collected from the property owners," the city attorney stated. "It may be true, as claimed in numerous cases which have come to my attention, that many assessments have been too high and in some instances almost exceed the value of the property. However, the remedy of an owner who feels that his assessment is too high is to make his objection when the assessment is made. After that time, his day in court has passed, the public interest is involved, and the bonds issued. It is then too late to object."

"While the present administration and its predecessor have initiated no special assessment proceedings, we have no choice but to proceed to collect those put through previously. It is the legal duty of the city to collect for the bondholders, and if we fail to proceed they can force us to do so. The City has no choice in the matter. Property owners should by all means pay up delinquent installments at once and avoid costs of foreclosure proceedings and loss of their property."

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Congress Assumes Greater Air of Independence... Just One More of Ickes' Worries... Youth Commission Plays Nation's Leadership... Famed Wine Protected by Federal Trade Group.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—Congress doesn't carry its hat in its hand any more when it goes to the White House.

The administration's lack of a legislative program for this session coincides, not too oddly, with the fact that senators and representatives generally are far more independent than in any other session since Roosevelt took office.

In his current demand for more than a billion dollars of taxes, Roosevelt had intended to include requests for inheritance taxes and increased levies on higher bracket income. His congressional leaders balked and told him he would be licked on it.

Congress hates new taxes in an election year, though it still loves to spend money. If Roosevelt gets any more "soak-the-rich" legislation from this Congress, it will be only through a miracle of strategic manipulation.

Oh, Just Forget 'Em

In one of those conferences devoted to pulling back the strings on some of the work relief four billions. Roosevelt asked Secretary Ickes how his PWA housing contracts stood. Ickes said he had something like $10,000,000 in contracts signed and four or five times as much not obligated in contracts.

"Ah," said the president, "we can have some of that."

Ickes, explaining that the contracts out were for excavation and foundations and that the rest of the money was needed for construction, demanded:

"What'll we do with those foundations? Make swimming pools out of 'em or fill 'em in?"

Authorization of Senator Harry Byrd's proposed investigation of federal government, its expenditures and overlappings, couldn't have happened before this year. Nor would any House committee have refused funds for administration political projects such as Passamaquoddy and the Florida ship canal—or for the shelter belt.

The flareup over the War Department's punishment of General Hagood for his wisecracks against WPA before the military affairs committee was unusually vigorous. Any federal agency will tell you that congressmen are likely to be tough these days when they telephone for information. Senator Bachman of Tennessee, seated near Chief of Staff Malin Craig at a dinner the other night, bawled the latter out for the Hagood incident.

"We've finished with this bureaucratic and departmental domination of Congress," he announced.

Several reasons for all this: The pie has about given out, both the patronage and project varieties. There's a natural tendency to swing back from previous marked subservience to the administration—often to resume normal subservience to special interests which usually help elect and control members. Most congressmen are constitutionally self-assertive; decline of administration prestige makes administration support seem less important to them than in 1934.

U. S. Leadership Lashed

The American Youth Commission, financed by the Rockefeller Foundation, is out with a preliminary report, which says, among other things:

"In recent years the exposures of flagrant violations of public trust by the leaders of international finance, by the munitions manufacturers, by high government officials and by leadership generally, have all but destroyed the bases of moral character

Kites Will Soar at Jersey Fairgrounds

Scout Troop Sponsors Kite Flying Contest to Be Held on March 14th

Jerseyville—Troop Nine of the Boy Scouts of Jerseyville will sponsor a kite flying contest the afternoon of Saturday, March 14, at the fairgrounds north of the city.

Any boy or girl interested in this sport of the early spring is invited to bring his or her kite to the fairgrounds that afternoon and enter the various competitive events.

The flying will be divided into various classes. The largest and smallest kites that will fly; box kites, boughen or home made; most novel kite that will fly; highest flying kite attached to a fifty-yard string. The string in the last event must be new and must bear the certificate of the seller to the effect that there are fifty yards in it.

The flying will begin at 2:30 o'clock and at 4:30 a kite battle will be staged to determine the longest time a kite may remain aloft under certain conditions.

The scoutmaster of Troop Nine is Harry Richards and the assistant scoutmaster is Fred Peter.

Girl Fractures Leg

Margaret Adams, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, is recuperating from a fracture of the right leg sustained recently when she fell at her home.

The child was playing with her brother and in some manner fell on the dining room floor and fractured one of the bones of the leg between the knee and ankle. She is able to walk on crutches and has resumed her studies at the Jerseyville grade school.

Pay Taxes in Full

County Treasurer Perry Shaw reported Wednesday that tax collections are good in Jersey county. Quite a number of people are paying their taxes in full instead of taking advantage of the two installment method afforded by law.

The percentage of complete payments at this time last year was much greater than that of the year before and the record this year is as good if not better than that of 1935.

and citizenship in American society.

"Before any program of citizenship or character education can have any real value, government and business and industry must vastly improve their ethical foundations. . . . the failure of youth to find high qualities in their leaders is the primary cause of so much cynicism and radicalism among our youth. . . ."

Such sentiments have been heard here before. But they have been attracting special attention because Mr. Newton D. Baker, a leading corporation lawyer, is chairman of the American Youth Commission, and because Mr. Owen D. Young, chairman of General Electric and prominent in many other industries, is the vice chairman.

Famed Wine Protected

The Federal Trade Commission has acted to protect the reputation of one of France's most celebrated wines. Issuing a complaint against certain California vintners, it insists that "Chateau Yquem" wine is "produced from grapes grown on the estate of the Marquis de Lur-Saluze, located in the Sauterne county, province of Bordeaux, France, is manufactured at the Chateau D'Yquem, situated on the same estate, and is said to be known throughout the world for its distinctive flavor." Use of the name on domestic wine, the commission claims, is unfair competition, because it diverts trade from importers of the real article.

YOUNG PEOPLE IN RURAL AREAS KEEN ON NEW INTERESTS

Urbana, Ill.—Typical of new interests being developed among rural youth, a five-point program was set up by delegates to the district conference for rural young people which has just been held at Greenville.

Objectives of the program which these young people set for themselves were: "Get acquainted, improve education, develop leadership, provide wholesome recreation and overcome self consciousness."

Attending the Greenville conference held the last week in February were 45 young people from Bond, Clinton, Edwards, Greene, Madison, Macoupin, Montgomery, Monroe, Shelby and Washington counties. It was one of four district conferences being held by the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois in furtherance of the work which it is doing to help rural young folks develop programs for themselves within their own counties.

A similar conference already has been held at Urbana and another will be held at DeKalb, March 16 to 19.

Rural young people attending the conferences get assistance in program planning, discussion leadership and

TRAFFIC LAWS ARE
SAFETY MEASURES
Mayor F. J. Blackburn Endorses Safety Campaign

I am particularly pleased at this time to endorse the Jacksonville Journal and Courier's campaign for safety on the streets and highways. Enforcement of traffic laws would be impossible without a police force of startling proportions. For that reason, I believe the Journal and Courier campaign is based on the sound foundation of making people conscious of the fact that it is up to them to obey the traffic laws for their own protection.

Running through boulevard stop double parking and other forms of illegal parking are violations of safety measures passed by the city council of this city to protect motorists themselves, and to aid traffic. They were not passed because the council wanted to impose some restrictions on motorists, but because of the endless traffic tie-ups, accidents and discourteousness they incur.

The traffic laws were put on the books for the good of all people. Therefore drivers should respect the rights of others, because the laws were made for the good of the majority. One automobile double parked can cause inconvenience to an almost unlimited number of other motorists. Now that warmer weather is here, greater attention will be given the traffic problem by the police department. I take this opportunity to urge people to co-operate with the newspapers and police department by obeying the traffic laws, keeping their machines in good condition, and walking carefully, and by being courteous.

May I also urge that children do not use the paved streets for roller-skating. This is a serious traffic menace.

F. J. BLACKBURN, Mayor.

ISSUES REQUISITION

Springfield, Ill. — (AP) — Governor Horner today requisitioned that R. L. Sullivan, under arrest at St. Louis, be turned over to Knox county authorities to face a charge of swindling Leo Sauter, Galesburg merchant, out of $550 on a check transaction. Sauter alleged he endorsed the check for Sullivan, a salesman, and that the bank refused payment, claiming it was a forgery.

They Snicker, Then Boost for Townsend Plan, Says Speaker

Peoria Man Explains $200 a Month Plan at Meeting of Kiwanis Club

The history of the Townsend plan is that persons who hear about it first laugh at it and then join a Townsend club and work for it, said Harry B. Presson of Peoria, at the Thursday meeting of the local Kiwanis club at the Peacock Inn. The plan at first appears to be fantastic, said the speaker, but a thorough study of the proposal will convince critics that it is sound.

The purpose of the Townsend plan is to cooperate and balance the supply and demand of commodities and to create employment for persons under 60 years of age. Mr. Presson predicted that the Townsend plan will become a law within 18 months.

The plan provides for the payment of $200 monthly to persons who are receiving salaries of less than $2,400 annually exclusive of men and women who are over 60 years of age. Persons who have incomes of $2,400 or more annually will benefit indirectly from the plan because of increased business.

It is proposed to pay the $200 per month by levying a two per cent transaction tax. This tax which would be taken from all regular business transactions would in normal times raise a sum sufficient in normal times to pay $200 per month for persons over the 60 year age limit, and in ten years would retire the national debt. Elderly people would be retired from gainful employment and younger persons would be placed at work. This would mean that the condition of the country today which finds 12,000,000 unemployed would be entirely changed. The necessity of matching the buying power with the consuming power was stressed by the speaker.

The salvation of the independent merchant and the salvation of the nation depends upon the adoption of the Townsend plan, declared the speaker, who declared it would provide a future for the young people and care for the old people.

Announcement was made at the meeting that the Kiwanis club in its contest yesterday had a one hundred per cent attendance.

Carnera Will Meet Gastanaga Tonight

New York, March 5.—(P)—Barring unexpected developments Primo Carnera, former heavyweight champion, and Isidore Gastanaga, Spanish giant, will go through their ten-round bout in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night with the approval of the New York State Athletic Commission. The commission will not decide until tomorrow whether Louis Soreli, Carnera's manager, and D. J. Rizzi, Gastanaga's manager of record in this state, were former business associates. But in a preview of the situation today Major-General John J. Phelan, chairman of the commission, said he saw no reason to halt the bout.

CLIFF SIGNS West Palm Beach, Fla., March 5.—(P)—Harland Cliff, third baseman, signed his contract and was in uniform today as the St. Louis Browns went through a brisk three hour workout. The pitchers began to "dish out" curves for the first time with little appreciable effect on the batters. Manager Rogers Hornsby especially was hitting them far and hard.

Roodhouse Loses In Last Quarter After Setting Early Pace

Carlville Rumps To Easy Win Over Modesto In Greenfield Meet

Scores Last Night: Carlville 53; Modesto 15. Viriden 27; Roodhouse 23. Games Tonight: 7:30—White Hall vs. Waverly. 8:40—Carlville vs. Viriden.

Greenfield, Feb. 5.—Roodhouse high district champions at Greenfield, kicked away a basketball in the final quarter here tonight after they had set the early pace against Viriden, losing by a 27 to 23 score after Carlville had turned loose all of its forces to run up a 53 to 15 scores over Modesto.

Leading by three points and apparently having the game under control, the Railroaders went into a tall spin in the final quarter, blowing several set-ups while Viriden kept banging away to take the lead in the final two minutes. Virtually the same thing happened in the first half when Roodhouse, after leading 9-6 at the end of the first quarter, suddenly dropped behind to trail 14-12 at the end of the half.

The stage is set for two sizzling semi-final games here Friday night, with White Hall meeting the highly rated Waverly meteors, and Carlville tackling Viriden.

Crawford did all of Modesto's scoring in the first game, with four baskets from the field and seven points from the free throw line. Whittier led the firing for the Carlville club with 16 points.

Crimsons Topple Franklin After Murrayville Defeats Virginia in Tourney Play

Scores Last Night: Murrayville 29; Virginia 20. Jacksonville 33; Franklin 15. Games Tonight: 7:30 p.m.—I. S. D. vs. Winchester. 8:40 p.m.—Jacksonville vs. Murrayville.

Illinois School for the Deaf's Regional tournament definitely went into the realm of uncertainty last night on the I.S.D. court, when Murrayville toppled Virginia 29 to 20, to get a shot at Jacksonville high, which won from Franklin 33 to 15, in the semi-finals carded for tonight. I.S.D. and Winchester will meet in the other semi-final game.

The Shadows, with Ken Brown going great guns, played a steady brand of ball for three periods before they began to show signs of losing their smoothness, whereas Jacksonville high was far from impressive against a crippled Franklin team. The Crimsons blew a lot of croaky shots, and turned up with Able Ketter limping all over the court as the result of a "charley horse."

Few are the dopesters who wish to make a choice between Winchester's smart band of ball hawks, and the I.S.D. Tigers. Likewise, Murrayville looks as if it might have the power to extend the Crimsons for four quarters, and then leave the outcome somewhat in doubt.

That Jacksonville's Franklin game appeared to be a give-away contest, with Franklin firmly convinced before the game that they were in for a licking, and Jacksonville equally convinced that they were going to win. It ended just that way, but the Crimsons supporters had a lot of uneasy moments.

Franklin's worst set-backs came during the week when they lost Transbarger, a regular guard, and Oxley, substitute, because of illness, and then allowed Byron Tannahill to play until someone stepped on his toe and injured it, despite the fact that he "fired" all of those reserves were enough to take the heart out of the Crimsons, but they played a lot of good basketball with their reserves in the line-up.

The Crimsons started out by blowing an easy set-up on the opening tip-off, and then Moxon came thru with an equally startling basket on an out-of-bounds play. They scored the remainder of their points during the first period from the free throw line, leading 5-0 at the end of the first eight minutes.

They held an 8 to 2 lead in the second quarter when Ketter went into the game, and Able promptly intercepted a Franklin pass and hobbled down the floor to lay in a set-up and then banged one in from the side of the court to make the count 14-2. Tannahill hit Franklin's only goal from the field after replacing Belk during the period, but the Crimsons wound up the first half with a 14-5 advantage.

Pep Up In Last Quarter The Crimsons' efforts at the other basket were just about as futile during the third quarter were just about as successful as their blazing away during the first two quarters, with Franklin taking heart all the time. Franklin trailed only six points at one stage of the third period, but slipped behind when Lukeman finally began tagging the nets. J. H. S. marked up a 21-10 lead, but still the Crimsons supporters were uncomfortable.

Moxon started the Crimsons off on their most impressive scoring spurt with a long shot. Lukeman hit his third set-up. Ketter banged in a long shot. Moxon hit a set-up, and Hamilton arched one in after several efforts. Miles scored the only bucket.

When Klem called a ball, the spectators cried "Boof-a-low" and laughed and slapped each other on the back. But they couldn't understand the nonchalance with which Klem took on the chest or the shin the bullet-like foul tips from a player's bat. His unconcern when a ball struck his mask was explainable; the spectators could see this protective device. Klem solved the mystery finally by donning his chest protector and shin guards before the crowd.

for the Flashes in the fourth period, but Bryant and Belk made free tosses.

Kenneth Brown Shows Way Virginia couldn't keep trace of Murrayville's Kenneth Brown, and the result was a Murrayville victory. Brown was entirely responsible for Murrayville's 7-3 lead in the first quarter and contributed two points more to Murrayville's 13 to 7 margin at the end of the first half. He went on another scoring rampage in the third quarter to aid the Shadows in piling up a 21-10 lead, and was the team's defensive bulwark in the final quarter when the Red-Heads tried to put on a rally.

Muscular, smooth, and fearless, the featured Shadow player outfooted the Red-Heads for three field goals and a free throw in the first quarter to account for all seven Murrayville points. He got some able help from his mates, particularly a flea-sized lad named Baker, who was convinced he was playing under the flux of a broken mirror. Baker broke a mirror yesterday and was almost afraid to get in the ball game, and feared that the seven years of bad luck was about to befall the whole team.

However, despite his small stature, Baker was in under the Virginia basket for a lot of rebounds, and did most of the ball handling for the team when it was moving toward its own hoop. He did fling in one long Continued on Page Nine

Patty Berg Wins Over Jean Bauer

Associated Press Staff Writer. St. Augustine, Fla., March 5.—(AP)—Blonde, statuesque Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., flared brilliantly for a short while today to crowd Patty Berg in the second round of the Florida East Coast Women's Golf tournament, then faltered and fell victim to the redhead's methodical play.

Patty's 5 and 3 victory pushed her into the semi-finals with three of the nation's ranking golfers—Maureen Orcutt, winner here last year; Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City, seasoned champion; and Marion Wiley, Lexington, Ky., Trans-Mississippi titleholder.

Winner, one up, in a duel with Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., Mrs. Hill tomorrow, will seek to put a sudden end to Miss Berg's victory-laden Florida season.

Mrs. Grews played the best golf of the day to overwhelm Sylvia Anenberg of Flushing, L. I., 4 and 3. Her semi-final opponent, Miss Miley, fired a neat 79 over the men's par 72 links and eliminated stubborn Jane Cottrhan of Greenville, S. C., two up.

On the long seventh, when her lengthy putt stymied Miss Bauer, Patty's margin was three.

Then Miss Bauer started a comeback that threatened to wipe out Patty's lead.

Miss Bauer sank her putt for a neat birdie four on the eighth.

Holding the honor for the first time of the day, Miss Bauer sent her tee shot on the 175-yard ninth across a marsh to the green. Patty hit to the left of the green and dubbed her pitch, barely getting on Jean's 20 foot putt bounced out of the cup for a certain three and Patty missed her chance for a half.

But Miss Bauer's rally proved short lived. Her putting game went to pieces and Patty pressed her advantage to take five of the remaining six holes.

WATCH DOG MISSES HIS CUE TO WORK

shot from the side of the court, but had to play under wraps because of committing three fouls. He finally had to leave the game because of acquiring a fourth foul.

Virginia played a lot of good basketball, but they couldn't get the ball to drop through the iron. Using height and speed, the Red-Heads worked the ball in for short shots, but they couldn't connect. They scored only seven times from the field, and registered six free goals to mark up their 20 point total. The Red-Heads played an aggressive game from the start, but their well planned plays ran afoul of a persistent shadow defense that often brought two men on top of the ball receiver.

The Red-Heads were able to get only two field goals during the first half, when Stambaugh, particularly, missed a lot of one-handed shots, and Mullen and Whitfield both failed to connect.

Blame Kelly-Nash For Registration Measure's Defeat

Declare Lieut.-Gov. Donovan "Unjust and Arbitrary" in His Rulings

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—The house today adopted the senate's joint resolutions providing that the first and third special sessions of the legislature shall adjourn sine die Friday.

The house later adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow but the senate decided to hold a session after midnight instead of meeting at the regular time tomorrow.

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—Governor Horner and his followers today blamed the Kelly-Nash Democratic organization for the defeat of permanent registration.

In the drive for quick adjournment of the third special session, administration men had little hope at this time of passing any bills dealing with the elimination of alleged wholesale frauds in Chicago elections.

Outnumbered 22 to 23, the Horner Democrats and Republicans saw the Schneckenberg permanent registration bills declared dead in the senate yesterday afternoon after several hours of debate about "honest elections." Four more votes would have passed them.

Governor Horner, campaigning at Carmi, took the opportunity for an attack upon his chief political enemy, Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago. The governor charged that the Kelly-Nash organization controlled the opposition votes and said:

"The sole issue in this legislation was the right of the people to have honest elections. By defeating our efforts to protect that right, Kelly has served notice on the entire state that as between corrupt elections and free suffrage his allegiance remains with the former."

Senator Louis O. Williams of Clinton, who couldn't get more than nine Democrats to vote against the Chicagoans, declared Lieut. Gov. Thomas F. Donovan as "unjust and arbitrary" in not permitting the roll call to be suspended, which is the usual procedure when sponsors of important bills want another chance to pass them.

Donovan said he announced the 22 to 23 vote, which killed the bill under consideration, because it was apparent that permanent registration could not be passed this week with sine die adjournment planned for Friday.

The governor's statement said Donovan was "undoubtedly" under the pressure or intimidation of "Boss Kelly."

Lasiter Named On Second A. P. Little 19 Conference Basket Ball Team; Mead Named First

Chicago—(P)—Sifted from the ranks of more than 300 players, representatives from five schools have been named to the annual Illinois intercollegiate conference all-star basketball team, packed by conference coaches for the Associated Press.

Carroll Wood of Western Teachers, who appears destined for the individual scoring championship of the league, and Ken Wilson, McKendree, were named to the forward positions; Harry Mead, Augustana, reputedly the tallest center in intercollegiate basketball, to the center post; and Russell Emery, Southern Teachers, and Jack Horenberger, Illinois Wesleyan, to the guard spots.

In the opinion of the coaches, Wood was the outstanding player of the loop. Senior co-captain of the Western Teacher five, he polled almost twice as many points as his closest competitor. He has been a claimant one of the shiftest players in Macomb history.

Wilson, a guard by trade and regular season assignment, was shifted to forward for all-star purposes by the coaches. The McKendree senior is one of the leading scorers of the conference. He was a halfback on the Associated Press all-star conference football team.

Mead, 6 foot 11 inch giant, won the center position after a battle of votes with Louis Lasiter of Illinois College. Lasiter, a leader in the early tabulations, undoubtedly suffered in the race because an attack of pneumonia related him from competition in the middle of the season.

Emery and Horenberger took possession of the guard assignments by the barest of margins. Pressing the leading pair were Benson of Illinois Wesleyan, Miller of Augustana, and Young of North Central. Horenberger, captain of the championship Wesleyan quintet, is rated a flashy dribbler and a past master of the one hand shot.

Emery, playing his fourth year at Carbondale, has been one of Southern's most consistent players, a defensive bulwark, and one of the cleanest players in the conference. If personal foul assessments may be accepted as a criterion, he has averaged less than one foul a game.

Goldman of Millikin and Donaldson, Knox, forwards; Lasiter, Illinois College, center; and Benson, Illinois Wesleyan, and Miller, Augustana, guards, were named to the second team.

Those winning honorable mention: Forwards—Cochran, Illinois Wesleyan; V. Fletcher, Illinois College; Nori.

Lasiter's Record For '34 Yet Stands

Wood of Western Has '36 Title But Can't Get Record

Chicago—(P)—Carroll Wood, today claimed 18 points for leadership in the Illinois intercollegiate conference individual scoring race. Wood's closest competitor was Ken Wilson, McKendree, who has counted 113 points.

Wood, although he has the 1936 scoring title clinched, is conceded little chance to equal the 218 point record set by Louis Lasiter, Illinois College, in 1934.

Much Weaker

Chicago, March 5.—(P)—Hog prices became weaker as the livestock market progressed today, although the supply of 12,000 was well below advance estimates it was 50 percent larger than receipts a week ago and proved to be a burden on the trade.

Opening prices were steady to 10 cents lower, the top slipping 5 cents to $10.65. The bulk of sales were made at the early level but the market closed 10 to 15 cents lower, with scattered sales 25 cents off.

Demand from shippers for better grade cattle contracted and as a result, despite meagerness of choice offerings, prices for these were no better than steady. Common and medium grade hogs were lower, selling 15 to 25 cents below last week's best level. Most sales were made at $7.75 to $9.25 although a sprinkling sold up to $10.50. The extreme top was $11.70.

A decline in sheep supplies sent fat lambs 10 to 15 cents higher, with $5.05 to $5.10 up. The top for fed lambs was $10.

July, September
Wheat Higher

By John P. Boughan
Associated Press Market Editor

Chicago, March 5.—(P)—An uneven trend developed in wheat prices today, with May showing weakness but July and September advancing.

Sudden falling-off in domestic milling demand for wheat, together with a pronounced let-up in Canadian export business, led to downturn of May, whereas the new crop deliveries were strengthened chiefly because for the second successive day western Kansas received no moisture despite forecasts of rain. Evidence that a cold wave was overspreading the middle west led also to anxiety in regard to chances of crop damage.

Wheat closed irregular, 1 cent lower to 1 higher compared with yesterday's finish. May 1.00-1.004, July 891-1, corn unchanged to 1 off, May 611-1, corn unchanged to 1 down, and provisions varying from 17 cents setback to 5 cents advance.

Unofficial domestic crop summaries expected tomorrow were looked for with much interest. Meanwhile, new overseas purchases of Canadian wheat totaled 400,000 bushels, against 2,000,000 bushels or more the day previous. Acting further as a weight on the value of May wheat was suspicion expressed in various quarters that Canada's crop has been under-estimated, and that if during the next few weeks the Canadian marketings from farms run parallel to those of last season an upward revision will apparently prove requisite.

Chicago Livestock

Chicago, March 5.—(P)—(U. S. Dept. Cattle, 7,000; calves, 1,500; fat steers less active; even shipper kinds slow, mainly steady, however due to very meager supply here; common and medium grades 15-25 lower than last week's high time; largely 7.75-9.25 market; sprinkling steers at 9.50-10.50; extreme top 11.70 paid for strictly choice light steers; stockers and feeders dull because of recent killer advance; heifers fully steady; best 9.25 but beef cows 10-15 lower; cutters and bulls weak; vealers 9.00 down.

Sheep 8,000; fat lambs mostly 10-15 higher, spots 25 up; other classes unevenly strong to 25 higher; all interests competed for numbers; bulk choice Colorado and Nebraska fed lambs 9.75-9.90; around 100 lb. weights making 9.85; one deck 90 lb. cornbelt fed lambs 10.00 to packers; other classes strong to 25 higher; best fall shorn yearlings 8.75; feeding and shearing lambs 9.25-50; most ewes 4.00-5.50; one load 5.50.

Stock Market Is Quiet But Strong

By Frank MacMillan
Associated Press Financial Writer

New York, March 5.—(P)—The stock market found quiet but strong buying power today behind selected Rail, Farm, Merchandise and specialty issues.

While the principal gains ranged from 1 to 4 or more points, and many new highs were recorded, the generally bullish picture was a bit clouded by the fact that the trading volume fell considerably under that of the preceding sessions.

The market was still tax conscious, but this influence seemed to be somewhat overshadowed by hopes of a brisk pickup in spring business, with consequent expansion of earnings and more favorable dividends.

The day's upward movement was interspersed with profit taking in various Steels, Motors, Utilities and Tobaccoes. There were 466 advances against 328 declines.

Transfers totaled 2,620,840 shares against 3,011,250 Wednesday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 3 of a point at 63.4, another new top for this composite since 1931.

The ability of carrier equities to shake off their discomfiture occasioned by the recent enforced reduction of passenger fares acted as a stimulant to recovery sentiment.

The transportation group also apparently responded to predictions that last week's freight car loadings figures, to be officially announced tomorrow, would be the best in several months.

The financial district was still divided on the New Deal plan to levy on corporation surpluses, and doubts were beginning to be heard as to whether undivided profits would be pushed out in the form of dividends rather than used in plant expansion.

March (to Beach) in Los Angeles

Californians who have been waiting impatiently to see how March would come in learned that, in Los Angeles at least, it came in like a lamb—and roast lamb, at that. When the temperature registered 85, thousands, as shown above, flocked to the beaches. But throngs of other native sons, who, despite the old-fashioned winter, could still "take it," hopped in their autos and drove for 2½ hours to reach a winter sports carnival at Big Pines.

Card tables were set up like magic until the recreation rooms resembled a bridge tournament in a big city hotel.

But the approach of a hurricane has a curious psychological effect on the people who wait, at sea. One lives with the spectre of death—uncertainty and fear of death in unnatural surroundings. The high winds outside created a vacuum inside the rooms, and people began to notice the tingling of their ears.

It was a diabolic torment. The slight pain involved wore down one's nerves. Some nerves snapped, like taut wires. The air became close, and then a little suffocating. Doors banged open and shut. Outside the winds shrieked and howled, and the ship gave harsh, lean shudders from bow to stern, like a giant animal emerging from water.

"I bid two spades,"

"Three diamonds."

"Bye."

"Bye me. What was that?"

A WOMAN coming into the lounge with two small children, shrieked, and went into uncontrollable hysterics.

"Go on. Go on. Bid. Don't pay any attention to that. My ear drums are about to burst. Thumping like a taut drum. Play, I wonder if Ely Culbertson would play a good game tonight?"

"It's silly. There's no real danger now. When the blow comes you'll know it. It's a steady roar whose volume can be detected—like a train coming. You hear it roaring, and you can't run, then it smacks. It isn't so bad after that. You get used to it. It just roars and roars."

The tension was greater as the hours wore on.

This was Jane's first knowledge of the hurricane. As she went hurriedly from room to room, looking for Dirk, she caught these snatches of acute distress, which remained forever closed in her brain.

Then she saw Dirk. He was assisting a little old lady, who looked about 84, down the stairs into the lounge. The woman was still gowned for dinner, and wore some jewels. She was laughing and gay, but had to depend on her cane.

"My boy, I've crossed the ocean 300 times," she said. "My husband was a mining engineer. I've taken to the boats more than once. One time we were boarded by a Chinese pirate ship off Hong Kong, and I fought with the crew. For my bravery I was awarded a bloody cutlass and a pirate's hand. One of the fingers had a lovely jade ring on it. I had it made into this lovely brooch. See?"

Dirk was laughing. "You give me your arm!" he said. "This is my first storm at sea."

When the little old lady was seated in the lounge, and beaming with intense self-satisfaction on all those around her as if to say, "This is my day!" Jane came to him.

"Oh, hello!" he said, and searched her face for any signs of alarm. When he didn't find any he smiled. "A bit of a blow, as the steward informed me." Then his voice was stern. "Young lady, where is your life belt?"

"Why, I don't know. Where do I find one?"

"In your stateroom, of course. Come on," he said, grabbing her arm. "We'll go get it right now."

JANE'S confusion came to an end with the feel of his strong hand.

"Where—where is yours?" she said, almost breathless in their hurry.

"Oh, I gave mine to a little two-year-old boy. There are not enough to go around, as usual. I suppose people take them away for souvenirs, or use them for fishing tackle. I can swim."

On the way to Deck B they passed a door where a steward was pounding with some force. The door opened suddenly, and Madame Doremus stood inside in her lace negligee.

"I don't want any room service!" she said. "Go on away. I came on this cruise to get some rest, and you're being pounding on my door for the last hour. Where is the fire?" she ended scornfully, and slammed the door.

Dirk knew she couldn't hear very well, and stopped to help the steward, who was on the verge of tears. The boy couldn't get her out. They knocked again, but Madame was expecting it. "Go on away!" she bellowed.

But when she opened the door in a rage, she saw Dirk standing there.

Jane said, "The ship has been socked."

That got over to Madame. Her hands went up, but she betrayed

Illinois Is Pivotal State In Presidential Election Says Glenn

Upon the nomination of a Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate from Illinois may hinge the presidential election this year, former Senator Otis F. Glenn, now a candidate for that nomination, told a local audience at the court house last night. Senator Glenn was introduced by Attorney Carl E. Robinson. County Chairman Harry T. Strawn called the meeting to order. The court room was comfortably filled for the occasion.

Senator Glenn told his audience that the Democrats are planning to spend millions to carry pivotal states, such as Illinois. The issues of the campaign in this state, he said, will be national, and the Democratic views will be carried to the people by the able and clever J. Hamilton Lewis, who is skilled in debate and a good showman. It is therefore essential that someone be nominated on the Republican ticket who can present the opposing views to the people so that Illinois will swing to the Republican column.

Senator Glenn referred to his own record in the Senate from 1928 to 1932. When he had been in the senate only fourteen months, he led the fight for the confirmation of Charles Evans Hughes as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, "which position," Senator Glenn said, "I regard as the highest in the Union. Mr. Hughes has stood foursquare for the Constitution and as one wild New Deal scheme after another has gone by the board, there has gone up from the nation in the past few months a fervent cry. Thank God for the Supreme Court and Charles Evans Hughes. I therefore feel that in standing for his confirmation, I helped to save the nation in this hour."

Against World Court
Senator Glenn stood firmly against the world court and entangling foreign alliances. He early saw that there were too many commissions and bureaus in Washington and too much waste of the taxpayer's money. He took a stand for economy. He was for abandonment of the Philippines, which naval experts claim we could not protect in case of war with Japan, as the islands are too far away. Senator Glenn believed in developing of markets nearer home in the neighboring countries of the American continent.

Blue's attorney, Leavitt Arnold, told the court that his client would waive preliminary hearing and Justice Opperman made his ruling that Blue be held to the May term of court without bail.

Alleged Slayer Of J. Atterberry Held Without Bail

Warrant Charging Paul Blue With Murder Is Issued Here Thursday

Paul Blue, charge with the slaying of John Atterberry, was held to the grand jury without bail, by Justice of the Peace A. B. Opperman, when he waived preliminary hearing when arraigned in court Thursday afternoon. Blue had been held in jail under $5,000 bond on a charge of attempt to murder. When the case opened in justice court yesterday, State's Attorney W. H. Absher withdrew the warrant. A warrant sworn out by Mr. Atterberry, charging murder was then sworn out.

Blue's attorney, Leavitt Arnold, told the court that his client would waive preliminary hearing and Justice Opperman made his ruling that Blue be held to the May term of court without bail.

82.4 Percent Of Drivers Violate One "Stop" Corner

Journal And Courier Checks On Violations At Down Town Corner

More than eighty two percent of the motorists using Jacksonville streets each day are violating traffic laws, according to a check made yesterday by one of the men conducting the Jacksonville Journal & Courier "Safety-Or Else" campaign.

The "safety man" stationed himself at the corner of West State street and the Public Square, near the Ayers National Bank building. Persons driving east on State street are entering a state highway when they drive on to the Public Square. A stop sign is plainly visible on the iron post in this corner.

A check of cars showed that 85 automobiles entered the Public Square at this corner between 1:20 p. m. and 1:50 p. m., a total of thirty minutes. Of this number, 70 cars failed to make the boulevard stop, while 15 motorists obeyed the law. A few cars entered the square at a speed in excess of 30 miles an hour. One driver approached the corner and apparently became enraged at a car proceeding ahead of him which had made the boulevard stop. After blowing his horn repeatedly he finally swerved to the left and darted into the square at a speed not less than 30 miles per hour.

Another motorist who wished to obey the law, brought his car to a full stop at the corner, but the car following him had for a driver a person who apparently had no intention of stopping. As a result there was a collision, but luckily no damage resulted.

Four trucks passed the corner while the check was being made and not one stopped. Six taxi-cabs also passed the corner without any indication of stopping.

While only fifteen persons brought their cars to a complete stop, several reduced their speed and "coasted" into the state highway.

The sign at the corner reads "STOP" and not "Slow." All persons should bring their car to a complete stop.

A business man who was watching the check-up became disgusted after fifteen cars had passed without a single one of them stopping.

"This man told the 'safety man' that he 'would stop the next car that came along.' He walked out slowly and compelled the motorist to stop for him."

The exact percentages of the check yesterday in Jacksonville, 82.4 percent, obedience to the law, 17.6 percent, violation. The Journal and Courier thru their "safety campaign" are attempting to bring about a condition where motorists will become "safety conscious," which will ultimately result in fewer deaths, injuries and greatly reduce property damage.

One radical who advised soldiers to shoot their officers in the back and turn any war into a communist revolution, has been permitted to come here to lecture. Under no other administration have such things been permitted.

"Elect a Republican administration next fall," said Senator Glenn, "and this sort of thing will be stopped. There will be a curb on communism and radical talk by foreign aliens. There will be a curb on the spending that, if not checked, will force the nation into bankruptcy."

The six ballet girls and Mistress Mary was a "new girl" for marionette work.

The Juggling acts, with feats of balancing, the trained seal and "togo," were unusually clever acts. Sambo, the popular master of ceremonies is certainly a well loved puppet. He has "Platform Personality" and when he calls "Howdy, Everybody," the audience responds spontaneously.

"Scrooge" Dickens immortal tale was presented as an evening performance by the Marionette company in the High School auditorium. Given in 11 scenes with innovations in Marionette production.

Herbert Schartz and Charles Townly, members of the company, are exceedingly talented with New York Theater experience. Mr. Schwartz does the Scrooge dialogue in a most impressive way. He is "Scrooge" during the play. Townly in addition to his ability as an actor is an expert technician and is responsible for some of the remarkable effects produced in "Scrooge."

At the close of the afternoon and the evening performance, the audience was allowed a view of back stage and the intricate pulling of the strings was explained. Eighteen strings on the clown "togo" enables this puppet to take any position desired. Where groups of figures are operated fifty strings are working at once.

Deppe Residence Near Meredosia Damaged By Fire

House Burns Day Before Family Planned To Move To New Home

Meredosia, Mar. 5.—The residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Deppe, 3 miles north east of Meredosia, was badly damaged by a fire yesterday that was discovered at 1:30 p. m. Mr. Deppe opened the door of the back stairs leading into the kitchen to investigate the smell of burning wood, and was almost overpowered by the flames that were sweeping through the upper story.

When he tried to telephone the local fire department, the instrument was out of order. Charles Korschmeier, a neighbor, had seen the flames, however, and ordered out the town crew which arrived in time to save the first floor of the comparatively new home. Plaster, wall paper and woodwork were badly damaged by water.

It was impossible for Mr. Deppe to save the house under the blaze started, but could have been from a defective furnace flue under the roof.

All but a few articles of clothing were destroyed, including a purse belonging to Mr. Deppe containing $75. No upstairs furniture was saved and bedding was also burned.

The Deppes were packing to move to a farm near Chandlerville tomorrow. A few days before, the insurance on their furniture had lapsed, and it was decided not to renew it until they were settled in the new home.

It could not be learned if the building was covered by insurance.

Marionettes Give Program At H. S.

Presentation Is Made At School Here Thursday Afternoon

Colorful scenery, spot light effects, which were elaborate and unique marked the matinee performance of the Rufus Rose Marionettes given in the Jacksonville High school auditorium Thursday, sponsored by the Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association.

It was evident from the first scene in the "Tinder-box" when the witch approaches along the village road and has converse with the soldier that the artists enacting the parts were of the highest rank. Realistic motions of arms, hands, and the movement of the head and feet in perfect accord with the spoken word were produced as one might play the keys of the organ, with great skill.

Hans Christian Anderson's delightful story has thrilled youngsters for many years as it did yesterday. Among the fairy tales of that master story teller, Hans Christian Anderson, the legend of the Soldier, the Sauter Eyed Dogs and the Beautiful Princess hold a high place. From the descent of the soldier in search of the pennies, silver and gold to his final triumph with the aid of the omnipotent Tin-der-box, the audience were fascinated.

C. Wayland Brooks Opens Downstate Campaign Thursday

Candidate For Governor Makes Plea For Non-Political Agricultural Aid

Ottawa, Ill., March 5.—(P)—Attorney C. Wayland Brooks of Chicago opened his downstate campaign for the Republican nomination for governor today with a detailed plea for non-politically administered agricultural aid.

Himself a La Salle county farm owner, Brooks called for the united support of Illinois agriculture and industry behind a Republican candidate for governor.

Agricultural aid, he said, should be administered through state agricultural colleges, not by political groups. He also declared himself in favor of soil conservation "by removing unproductive acreage and planting the same to legumes."

"Until there can be an equalization of demand to production, it is necessary to adjust acreage to needs," Brooks asserted. This, he explained, could be helped by a protective tariff on fats, meats, oils and other products of foreign lands."

He advocated the encouragement of voluntary farm cooperatives and aligned himself as an advocate of owner-operation of farms.

Brooks attacked the centralized relief administration. He said he approved what he called a "normal tax program within four years" including ultimate abolition of the sales tax.

Four-H Club Groups Hear Health Talk

Health Education Specialist Is Speaker At Meeting Here Thursday

"Within You lies all growth and intelligence" was the theme of the address of Miss Fannie M. Brooks, health education specialist, who spoke at the joint meeting of the Four-H Boys' and Girls' clubs at the First Baptist church, Thursday evening.

As health education specialist, Miss Brooks told in an unusually forceful and interesting manner of the need of mental hygiene, illustrating in vivid word pictures her experiences in the girls' camps in New York State and in the other states of the East. She stressed the point that the discipline and training was invaluable for healthy minds and bodies. In speaking of the influence of organized groups she told of new methods, which are being taught and are better than 20 years ago and which through the Farm Bureau are taken by one million women and used to make better homes in America.

"In the 549,000 clubs the boys and girls are learning on their recreation programs health giving activities—swimming, nature study, and the positive traits for character building, the sum total of which is what you are," Miss Brooks said with a chart explaining the traits necessary—dependability, helpfulness, understanding and many other characteristics, giving a fine discussion of personal habits, posture and disposition, which she declared each one had the power to change, if they did not measure up to a high standard.

She admonished each member of the organization to study the lives of the great men and women of history, giving two readings in closing her splendid lecture.

Preceding the address, two members of the Kinman Four-H club, the Fitzsimons girls, sang a duet, giving two numbers, "Treasure Island" and "When You're Over Sixty."

W. F. Coolidge, county farm adviser, presided at the meeting, leading the group singing. Announcement was made that the next meeting would be held April 17, and would be "Stunt and Rally" night. Each club is asked to take part, since the best will be selected to make a tour to the University of Illinois in June.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Brooks addressed fifty women representing various townships in the county at the Farm Bureau office. Miss Elsie Ross, home adviser of Jersey county, and Mrs. Clarence Sunderland, of Jersey, also spoke at the meeting.
